

The School Buzz

Welcome Note

The International School of Choueifat — Ras Al Khaimah opened its doors to its Pre-K students this September. Today, the students, along with their parents and teachers, continue to joyfully write the story of this first year in the life of their school. They are learning, making friends, and certainly building unforgettable memories despite the challenges they run into every day.

Academically, we have seen our students thrive in their school's first term. They showed a willingness to learn and a drive to succeed. Beyond academics, extra-curricular activities uncovered talents of all types; from ballet, gymnastics, and swimming, to music and art, providing our students with unlimited opportunities to develop into future contestants, competitors, and stars. The first cluster of school events had also just begun and started weaving everlasting ties engaging students with their community.

This term, we had much to celebrate, like Students' World Day, Flag Day, and National Day. These events kept students enthusiastic and committed to giving their best. Appreciation Day and Zumba added a sprinkle of color and joy as did the fun interactive times, which allowed our younger learners to add healthy life styles into their daily activities around the school, showcasing their happiness and comfort in their new learning environment.

News & Updates

Back to School

We celebrated our students coming back to school after having attending classes online for some time last year. Our students showcased their creativity through a name tag activity. Students created their own name tags, and in the morning of the first day of school, the name tags were put on our first cohorts of students and their parents. Lower grades were given crowns and upper grades were given certificates of appreciation and bookmarks in celebration of this day.

Ghaf Tree Planting

At ISC-RAK, we encourage our students to learn and understand the importance of the different values that the community in the U.A.E is built on.

As such, our students were happy to implement what was discussed during several advising sessions on tolerance and the respect of others by planting Ghaf trees on the school campus in three different locations.

Flag Day

On November 3rd, we commemorated the U.A.E. National Flag Day. Upon arrival to school that morning, students and their parents decorated their classroom boards. We also did the flag formation and saluted the flag with the presence of police officers from the Sharjah Municipality.

Students celebrated their pride in the U.A.E. by wearing clothes in the colors of the national flag.

STEAM Clubs

Students have the chance to join the Robotics, Electronics, or even the Mechatronics clubs at certain levels. These clubs develop their creative sides and encourage them on taking a new path in the world of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.

National Day

On November 25th, we celebrated National Day at our school. Attendees were greeted by students with traditional foods in tents that showcased information on the seven Emirates, and a photo-booth. They toured around our art exhibition, which was a student-parent lead project related to the U.A.E. and the 50th celebration.

Festivities continued with performances from students which included an array of speeches, poems, songs, and dances. Some such performances included gymnastics and ballet routines. The boys performed a traditional Yola dance while the girls sang Emirati songs and showcased a dance to the Expo song "This Is Our Time."

Bullying Prevention

The students designed a bullying prevention character that was used as an emblem. Our team of bullying prevention students then created a presentation, which highlighted the importance of speaking up against bullying. This presentation was then shown to all the classes in order to remind all students of the severity of bullying and the impact it has.

Students designed a bullying prevention character and wrote a story to showcase it.

Healthy Lifestyle

Our students were finally able to get back into their physical activities again this term. One activity that was organized for the younger grades was a Zumba class.

Dancing and physical activity helps the students develop a positive attitude towards their daily challenges. The students showed us their moves in this energetic and mood boosting activity.

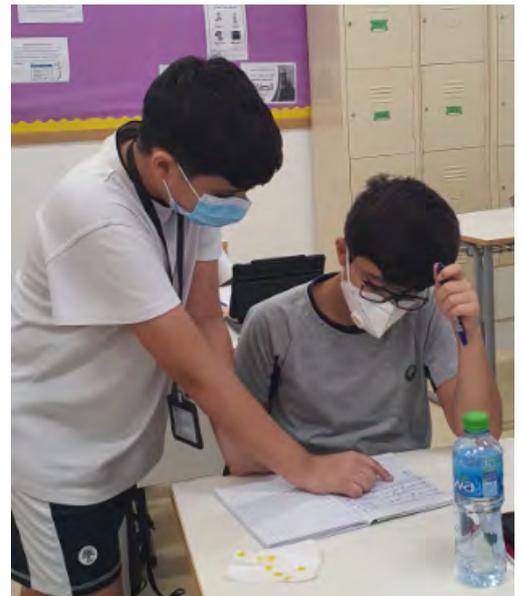

SLO® Stories

Academics and tutoring between students are a staple at SABIS. Many of our students this term volunteered their free time to help their fellow students with their studies and boost their marks.

SLO®'s Management Department is comprised of students who are taking care of the school by making tags, entering SLO points, and data entry, ensuring that all students benefit from the work and devotion of their fellow peers.

The Discipline Department prefects maintained the hallways and assigned bullying prevention prefects. Students can count on their prefects to keep their environment a safe space to learn and enjoy.
